“APL nextED is a remarkable platform that has improved the way we do academic operations. My staff used to log into multiple applications, use spreadsheets, and manage processes using emails and document folders. Today, with APL, my staff can view, manage and report on digital faculty files, course scheduling, compensation and workload, evaluations, contracts, documents and teaching resources all in one single place, saving us lots of time and money. The APL team is highly responsive and delivers extraordinary service; they are a true partner.”
